Dear Commission Member,

The urgency of this communication cannot be overstated.

I have every reason to believe Fourth District Chief Judge Kirk S. Samelson has conspired together with magistrates in the El Paso County N/CS Division and the legal representatives of the El Paso County Child Support Enforcement Unit (CSEU) to affect the outcome of my case. Please be advised CSEU is one of the trade names registered by Policy Studies Inc., a privately-owned, for-profit commercial business that collects court-ordered child support and certain State child-related debt under contract with the El Paso County Department of Human Services.

When I realized I could not get fair treatment in the N/CS Division, I filed the first of three motions for change of venue and provided the Chief Judge with the first of two courtesy copies to alert him to irregularities being uncovered in the N/CS Division. On March 5, 2010, he prepared the attached letter and mailed it to me. Without knowledge of the letter in the mail, I filed an amended motion for change of venue to correct a misstatement and add new information. The Chief Judge did not respond.

On March 15, 2010, I filed the third motion for change of venue. But this time for a venue change outside the Fourth Judicial District and alleged the Chief Judge was a willing participant in the conspiracy. Because of his suspected involvement I did not provide him with a courtesy copy.

On March 23, 2010, I learned the March 15, 2010 motion for change of venue was not listed in the registry of actions and prepared the attached letter of complaint to the Chief Judge on March 29, 2010 and provided him with the 32-page affidavit and copies of other letters as well as a copy of the missing motion. At the time of delivery, I believed the current magistrate was preventing investigation of my allegations by the Chief Judge and other contacted government officials by portraying me as a “disgruntled deadbeat dad unhappy with the outcome of the new child support order.” I therefore believed the Chief Judge had simply dismissed my first motion because of what the current magistrate told him.

However upon receipt of the attached letter from the Chief Judge also dated March 29, 2010, I once again took issue with his failure to respond to my allegations that judicial and professional misconduct were ongoing in the handling of my case. This time, I based my concerns upon the willful neglect of his oversight responsibilities to magistrates pursuant to the Colorado Rules of Magistrates. Clearly, the C.R.M. assigns the authorities over district magistrates to him as the District’s chief judge.

Because I am likely being portrayed in the most negative manner possible and expect any inquiry by the Commission into my allegations to be “handled” the same way, I am asking that ANYONE with entry-level knowledge of the use of child support worksheets inspect the worksheets used by the legal representatives of CSEU that formed the foundation of the final order and decide if the Chief Judge could have missed the fact the wrong child support worksheets were used due to incompetency or did he willfully ignore what I was reporting to him for corrupt purposes? The answer is clear to anyone with a basic understanding of child support worksheets.

Sincerely,

R. Wayne Johnson
